Salary Program Is Likely to Forestall Strike in Buffalo

State Teachers Association, However, Does Not Like Idea; Mayor Asks More Cash

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 22 (AP)—Governor Dewey's administration, unable to satisfy teachers with temporary pay raises, was buffeted today by fresh attacks on a projected permanent salary program involving new local taxes.

On the other hand, the possibility developed that the vigorously criticized program would avert a Buffalo teachers' strike called for Monday.

The plan, expected to be recommended to the Legislature next week by Dewey's special committee on education, was derided by officials of the New York Teachers Association as "the worst piece of chicanery ever played upon the taxpayers, children and teachers of New York state."

The president of the Buffalo Teachers Association, however, said the proposed program possibly would forestall strike action. Raymond J. Ast observed last night that if he could tell association members "something concrete" from an authoritative source, "perhaps that will change things."

School authorities had concluded that more than two-thirds of Buffalo's 2,960 teachers were prepared to strike. The A.F.L. Teachers Union would not participate.

Ast had said earlier that he did not expect the new salary proposals, which have not been revealed, to come up to his organization's demands for a minimum scale of $2,400 to $3,600.

Meetings Are Scheduled
The state association summoned its executive and legislative committees to Albany for emergency meetings today.

The tax angle of the pay program "throws the state's responsibility right back on the already heavily burdened taxpayers of the local community," declared Miss Mary A. Sheehan of Rochester association president. "Education is a state function," she said. "This fantastic proposal to give all local communities additional taxing power will throw out of the window the principle of equalization established over long years of educational statehood by Republicans and Democrats alike."

Meanwhile, forces on another front—housing—drew a bead on the administration and the Republican-controlled Legislature. Following a plea by Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City for $30,000,000 more in state loans for low-cost housing, Assembly Minority Leader Edwin Steiger announced he would move Monday night for consideration of his bill to create an added state debt for the purpose.

Dewey's office had no comment on O'Dwyer's letter requesting $30,000,000.

Steiger, in moving to discontinue his plan along with a companion measure increasing state subsidies for housing by $9,000,000, would bring the issue to a vote in the Assembly.

Both bills, proposing to amend the constitution, are subject to approval by two Legislatures and a subsequent vote by the people.

Search for Plane

Ladd Field, Fairbanks, Alaska, Feb. 22 (AP)—Army planes from Ladd Field and Elmendorf Field at Anchorage searched the frozen wastes of Northern Alaska above the Arctic Circle today for an Army Air Forces B-29 superfortress, reported missing since yesterday on a photographic mission. Army officials here said the plane's last radio message reported that the gas supply was low and a forced landing might have to be made. The number of crewmen and their names were withheld.

Roland Ladd Is Still at Large

Mechanicville Youth Who Shot at Policeman Is Being Sought

Roland Ladd, 16, of Mechanicville, who is wanted by the Kingston police for felonious assault, was still at large today, despite an intensive seven-state police dragnet and the entry of the F.B.I. into the manhunt.

Ladd escaped from local police Monday evening after firing a shot at rookie patrolman Carl Janasiewicz near the Governor Clinton hotel. Ladd's companion, John Bruce McWhinnie, was apprehended by a hotel guest, after both attempted to run away from Patrolman Janasiewicz who sought to question them when their actions aroused suspicion.

Ladd disappeared into the marshes behind the hotel, but McWhinnie sought refuge in a hotel room occupied by an elderly resident guest. He was captured about a half hour later when he attempted to escape via a rear fire exit, dressed in the woman's hat and coat.

Chief of Police Ernest Boss said several leads have been tracked down without result in the last few days. The police teletype has been flashing a mounting number of cases involving teen age offenders in various parts of the East and these have been checked.

Ladd is believed armed and described by police as dangerous with penchant for committing burglary.

Red Soldiers and Sailors Warned on Foreign Agents

Moscow, Feb. 22 (AP)—The Soviet newspaper, Red Fleet published a warning to Russian soldiers and sailors today to be on their guard against foreign intelligence agents.

The article, written by Lt. Col. P. Ancharski, said that the "post-war period shows that international reaction is intensifying its attacks against the U.S.S.R. and that such inciters of a new war as Churchill and his friends in Britain and the U.S.A. are just as active. This demands that the vigilance of all Soviet people must be increased in every way."

"Particular vigilance must be shown by the personnel of the Soviet army and navy," said Ancharski, "because these foreign intelligence agents are seeking primarily to get information about the state of the armed forces of the U.S.S.R."

New Camera Gives Finished Picture Minute After Shutter Is Snapped

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—A revolutionary new camera, which turns out a finished picture one minute after the shutter is snapped, accomplishing in a single step all the processing operations of ordinary photography, was demonstrated yesterday.

The camera, which can be carried by any one, was announced to the Optical Society of America by its inventor, Edwin H. Land, of Boston, the discoverer of polaroid.

Several types have been built. Land said, and announcement will be made in a few months about when the cameras will be available and what they will cost.

The inventor, demonstrating a portrait type and also one of the size frequently carried by news photographers, said the process could be adapted to any camera and possibly to making motion pictures.

Robbery Took Place at School Thursday; Windows, Drawers Are Smashed

The sheriff's office was continuing today an investigation of a burglary at the Kerhonkson High School building Thursday night in which approximately $150 in cash was stolen and a considerable amount of damage done to doors and to the locks and drawers of numerous filing cabinets and lockers.

Discovery that the building had been broken into and rooms and offices ransacked was made by Albert Lovgren, custodian of the building, when he came Friday morning to attend to his usual duties.

Sheriff George C. Smith, was notified and Clayton W. Vredenburg, county investigator and LeRoy Belmont, assistant at once began an investigation of the affair.

The investigation disclosed that entry to the building had been made by climbing on to a shed on the north side of the school building and prying open a second story window after breaking through the screen which covered it.

Glass Is Broken
Apparently an attempt had been made to jimmy the door to the office of Principal Alvin Farnsworth, failing in which the glass was broken and the door opened from inside.

Drawers to filing cabinets in the principal's office were pried open and some money was taken. A similar procedure was followed after gaining entrance to the rooms of the secretary and the librarian and that of William Newkirk, physical education director. Several classrooms were entered and further sums of money were taken from desks of the teachers.

The intruders evidently took time to do a complete job, since they jimmied the door to the gymnasium locker, which contains athletic goods and equipment, but so far as was discovered nothing was taken. They also broke open a cabinet in the library study hall, but obtained nothing.

Funds From Activities
Sheriff Smith said that the money taken represented funds from various school activities. In addition to the loss of money and damage to doors and equipment a number of the filing cabinet drawers had been ransacked and contents thrown about the offices of the principal and secretary.

Storm Takes 48 Lives in Eight States

(By The Associated Press)
Freezing winds and falling temperatures gripped the East today in the wake of a snowstorm which blew out to sea yesterday, after causing at least 48 deaths and burying the eastern seaboard from the Carolinas north to Maine under a thick coating of white.

The storm raged in many sections for almost 24 hours, snarling air and surface transportation and retarding industrial activities. It blew a final flurry in Manhattan yesterday afternoon, then headed northward toward Newfoundland and the sea.

Snow drifts on roads to Lake Success, Long Island, N. Y., forced postponement of a meeting of the United Nations Security Council yesterday.

Later accidents on drif-choked highways and over-exertion from snow shoveling accounted for most of the deaths. The toll by states:

New Jersey 13, District of Columbia 3, Pennsylvania 17, New York 2, Connecticut 8, Massachusetts 2, Delaware 1, Maine 1.

A wind gust of 27 in. per hour was reported at Dickinson County, Va. In New York city, snow crews worked through Thursday night, Friday and today keeping primary arteries more or less open, but secondary highways remained choked in drifts, some of them six feet high in the suburbs.

Many schools closed in a dozen states. Railroad travel was returning to normal today after being slowed almost to a crawl in some sections.

The storm closed down eastern seaboard airports, including La Guardia, Newark, N. J., and Washington terminals which were buried under two feet of snow until snowplows were loosed on them last night.

Washington swallowed a seven inches of snow, hampering operations in federal buildings and forcing President Truman to cancel his regular early morning walk.

Even the stork had his troubles. In Philadelphia, police curs and emergency trucks were used to get 25 expectant mothers to hospitals.

In Saugus, Mass., Mrs. Edward Lauer, snowbound in her home, gave birth to a boy with two policemen acting as midwives.

Housing Projects Set back
Vitaly needed housing projects suffered setbacks when construction was halted by the storm. In industry, some plants reported that only 50 per cent of their employees reported for work.

The storm delayed ship sailings and arrivals and the coast guard sent its cutters seaward to aid small craft.

Commuter service to and from New York was from a few minutes to two hours late, and brought trains were from one to five hours behind schedule.

Sections of Pennsylvania were buried under four feet of snow. Connecticut was deeply drifted also, but the northern New England states generally reported lighter falls than lower New York state, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Wells New President

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 22 (AP)—Wells of North Elba, Essex county, is the new president of the Association of Towns. Wells was elected yesterday at the close of a three-day convention. Edward F. N. Ulric of Coeymans, Albany county, was re-elected treasurer.

England Is Covered By Heavy Snowfall

London, Feb. 22 (AP)—Heavy snowfalls blocked rail lines and highways in a wide area of England today, isolated villages in the Yorkshire Dales and delayed coal shipments from South Wales to industrial areas blacked out by a shortage of fuel and power.

Temperatures throughout the British Isles ranged from 10 to 18 degrees below normal and weather forecasters said the severe weather would continue "at least" for several days.

On the continent, however, temperatures moderated after more than a month of bitter cold.

Cuba Is Checking Luciano Activities; May Be Deported

Action by U.S. in Stopping Shipments of Dope Brings Action by Secret Police

Havana, Feb. 22 (AP)—Cuban secret police sought leads today on the activities of Charles "Lucky" Luciano, deported New York vice overlord, in an investigation ordered after the United States cut off narcotics shipments to Cuba on the ground that Luciano's presence in the country might lead to "diversion of the drugs."

Interior Minister Alfredo Riqueno told Secret Police Chief Benito Herrera yesterday to determine how Luciano, who was deported from the U. S. to Italy, had entered Cuba and how he was occupying himself.

Secret police said that they knew Luciano was in Cuba and that he had been seen frequently at the race track in Havana, though it had not been learned where he was staying.

The ban on further supplies of narcotics to Cuba was issued in Washington by Harry J. Anslinger, federal narcotics commissioner. Julian Solerzanza, secretary of the Cuban presidency, sought to discount the possibility that Luciano's presence could lead to diversion of imported drugs. A point of view that the government recently decreed that all shipments of narcotics to Cuba be brought in through the port of Havana.

Authorities here stated that if Luciano was found to have entered Cuba illegally, he would be deported at once, presumably to Italy.

Luciano, former top man of New York vice rackets, was sent to prison in 1936 for 30 to 50 years. Last year he received a pardon from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who as district attorney had prosecuted Luciano—and was sent back to his native Italy. Recently, however, reports reached Washington that Luciano had found a haven in Cuba.

Anslinger, announcing the ban on narcotic exports to Cuba, said the Cuban government had been advised that the ban would continue as long as Luciano remained there.

"We can't afford to risk diversion of the drugs," Anslinger said. He explained that narcotics shipped to Cuba in the past had been smuggled back into this country for illicit purposes. The U. S. is the chief source of narcotics supplies for Cuba.

Luciano, in his heyday, more than a decade ago, amassed vast sums from such rackets as dope, white slavery and gambling. A well-known figure in New York city, he frequented race tracks and sporting events, where he was said to have bet huge sums of money.

Ickes Suggests Price Decide 'Ads' in Papers

Athens, Ga., Feb. 22 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes advocated today the "rationing by price" of newspaper advertising as one method of combatting a growing shortage in newsprint while still giving readers more news and editorial interpretations.

The suggestion was contained in an address he had prepared for delivery before the Georgia Press Institute before illness forced the cancellation of his appearance. Copies of the speech were distributed at the morning session to which he was to have spoken.

"I propose that you double your advertising rates, at least for display advertising," said the former cabinet member, now a newspaper columnist. He added that the result would not be a doubling of profits because "advertisers would take smaller ads and in this way you would save newsprint."

Sugar Case Is Put Over to Tuesday, Because of Forman

Judge Says Doctors Gave Reports on Illness; Will Get Statements Today and Sunday

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins yesterday adjourned until Tuesday the trial of Harold Gottfried and the Pure Rock Mineral Springs Corp., of Ellenville, N. Y., on an indictment charging the filing of false applications for sugar rations, and of Gottfried, Joseph Forman, of Kingston, N. Y., and William T. Stanton, of Kingston, a former O.P.A. investigator, on conspiracy charges.

The adjournment was ordered because of Forman's illness.

Judge Watkins announced that two physicians appointed by the court, and Forman's personal physician, Dr. Edward B. Greenspan, reported to him that Forman was suffering from pneumonia.

Dr. Greenspan, questioned in court by the judge, said Forman had been ill since Feb. 9 and that his court appearances since that time had been against the physician's advice.

Because Dr. Greenspan said it would be inadvisable for Forman to leave his hotel during the bad weather, the judge adjourned the trial.

Blame Chemicals For Coast Blast

Mixture Is Equivalent to Blockbuster; 15 Die, 158 Hurt

Los Angeles, Feb. 22 (AP)—Chemical experts agreed today that a 300-gallon mixture of chemicals equivalent to 3,600 pounds of explosive virtually as violent as nitroglycerin caused the downtown Los Angeles explosion which killed 15 and injured 158 Thursday.

A mixture of perchloric acid and acetic anhydride was the lethal potion which disintegrated the O'Connor Electro-Plating Plant, wrecked nearly a block of buildings and rattled a square mile of the city, said police chemist Ray Pinker, Capt. Carl Klatter of the fire department arson squad and G. L. Cheney analytical chemist.

Workers still searched today for two others still missing. The three said the blast, which caused damage in the area estimated at $1,500,000 by fire officials, was equivalent in explosive force to that of a wartime one-ton Continued on Page Three

Mac Arthur Says Interests Of U. S. West as Well as East

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—The future interests of the United States, says Gen. Douglas MacArthur, "will lie as much to the west as to the east."

Even now, the situation is "badly out of balance," he added in a letter to Dr. Frank D. Fackenthal, acting president of Columbia University.

The letter was to express regret that he could not attend yesterday's exercises to receive an honorary doctor of laws degree along with ten other top military leaders.

"Since the birth of our Republic," MacArthur wrote, "our economy for the most part, beyond our domestic needs, has been geared to supply the lanes of commerce leading from our eastern shores, and our national defense largely has been planned against attack upon those shores."

"We now are badly out of balance. We must realize that our standpoint of national security and economic progress, in future will lie as much to the west as to the east."

Matter Will Show Lengths to Which Congress Will Back U. S. Commitments

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—President Truman's request for a $350,000,000 foreign relief appropriation set the stage today for an early test of how far an economy-conscious Congress will go in backing up United Nations' commitments with funds and food.

The initial reaction on Capitol Hill was favorable. It was prompted, at least in part, by the administration's decision to put company in relief work with its war-time U.N.R.R.A. associates and pursue the mission of mercy independently.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee ordered hearings on a measure authorizing the appropriation soon after the chief executive's appeal reached Congress yesterday. Committee approval with likely limitations on where the money is spent, is deemed a certainty.

The real hurdle will come when a bill to set aside the money itself reaches the House Appropriations Committee, whose Republican members are fighting to slash a big chunk off President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget.

Taber Gives Opinion
"It seems to me that in the two years since the war has ended something should have been done to get these liberated people back to their feet and at work," Chairman Taber (R-N.Y.), of the appropriations group (old a reporter.

Chairman Eaton (R-N.J.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee already has introduced a bill requiring countries which receive relief to:

1. Guarantee that it will be distributed without discrimination as to race, creed or political belief.

2. Permit representatives of the U. S. government, press and radio "to observe freely and report fully" on distribution and utilization of the relief.

3. Furnish the United States with prompt information on the use, distribution, importation and exportation of any supplies affecting their needs.

The United States led the fight at the United Nations Assembly to put post-U.N.R.R.A. relief work on a nation-to-nation basis, rather than collectively in an agency such as U.N.R.R.A. As contributor of the lion's share of the U.N.R.R.A. relief, this country prevailed despite strong Soviet opposition.

Thinks Bormann Alive

Venice, Italy, Feb. 22 (AP)—Belief that Martin Bormann, former deputy to Hitler, is alive and hiding "in Uruguay, or Brazil, or perhaps in Spain," has been expressed by Lt. Col. Alexander Patterson, British intelligence officer in Scotland, testified yesterday at the war crimes trial of Field Marshal Albert Kesselring. Questioned afterward concerning reports that Bormann had been killed on a Berlin bridge in May, 1945, while attempting to escape from the Reich chancellery, Scotland said, "that is the story and it is the best story we have, but we do not accept it. We are convinced Bormann is alive."

Labor Relations Expert Says He Is of Opinion Program Helpful to All Would Come

Sees Need of Unity Opposed Groups Would Have to Be Put in Proper Mood

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—Senator IV (R-N.Y.), suggested today that the House and Senate set up a joint committee to hold separate private conferences with union and management leaders before Congress acts on labor legislation.

"The New York lawmaker, a member of the Senate Labor Committee, told a reporter that 'under that kind of an arrangement I think we could work out a program helpful to everyone.' Ives made his suggestion as the Senate Labor group took a recess until Tuesday from testimony by union witnesses. Meanwhile, its House counterpart stayed at work today to hear additional industry representatives (at 10 a. m. E.S.T.).

Ives, a freshman senator who is a labor relations expert, said he believes a joint committee is needed because:

1. "There is not too much 'fusion' between the House and Senate Labor Committee.

(In the House, chairman Hartley (R-N.J.), has announced there will be no action on labor legislation until after the Senate has considered House labor bills always are butched in the Senate.)

2. Management and labor are at loggerheads over what kind of legislation, if any, Congress could enact.

Ives noted that chairman Taft (R-Ohio), had turned thumbs down on a proposal by C.I.O. President Philip Murray that the Senate labor group sit down with Murray and A.F.L. President William Green to try to work out a way to prevent jurisdictional strikes. Taft said there would be too much controversy to permit agreement.

Could Overcome Objection
Ives contended that objection could be overcome by having the union chairmen in separate and holding still another conference with industry leaders.

"But we wouldn't get any place unless the House and Senate got together," Ives added, "and the first thing to do would be to get the Republicans together."

The New York Senator feels that with the G.O.P. in control of Congress, it is up to the Republicans to show the way. Thus far there has been no general agreement among them as to what to do about the labor laws.

Ives, first dean of Cornell University's New York College of Industrial and Labor Relations, based his joint committee suggestion on the fact that the G.O.P. leader of the New York State Assembly.

There he was chairman of the legislature's joint committee on labor and industrial conditions, a bipartisan group which required a unanimous decision for any action.

Should Be Bi-Partisan
Ives emphasized that any similar group set up in Congress should be bi-partisan.

"Labor legislation should never be on a partisan basis," he said, "nor should any matter involving human relations," he said.

Ives expressed "disappointment" that union leaders who have testified thus far, including Green and Murray, "have offered no ideas for the proper kind of labor legislation program which the people are demanding."

But he said he does not go along with the stand of Senator Morse (D-Ore.), that if it comes to a choice between no legislation and bills which go too far, the bills should be adopted.

"I am still hopeful that we can work out something reasonable," Ives declared.

Ives said he believes that "if labor could be shown that Congress is not trying to play politics—that one party is not trying to make capital at the expense of the other—it definitely would be inclined to help out more fully than it is at present."

Local C.D.A. Makes Pads for Rosary Hill Home Cancer Patients

During the past few weeks members of Court Santa Maria 161, Catholic Daughters of America and a number of their friends have been making pads for the Rosary Hill Home for Incurable Cancer Patients, Westchester county. Wednesday 1,750 pads were prepared for shipment.

The home which is located at Hawthorne near White Plains, Westchester county, was established June 1, 1901 by late Mother Mary Alphonsa (Rose Hawthorne Lathrop), who had devoted her life to treating cancer patients. Last year 1,602 patients were treated free of charge; at the home, according to reports received by the local court, Mother Mary Paschal is now Mother General.

Further reports note that interest in cancer patients for Mother Mary Alphonsa began when she lived in New York city with her husband, George Lathrop, co-editor of the Atlantic Monthly and instrumentally in the passing of the copyright law. She met Emma Lazarus, poetess whose sonnet, "The New Colossus" is inscribed on the Statue of Liberty. Sometime later upon her return from Concord, Mass., Mrs. Lathrop found Emma Lazarus dying from incurable cancer. She had every cure, but Mrs. Lathrop thought of the patients in the almshouse on Blackwells Island, who had been deserted by their relatives because cancer was thought to be contagious.

After long deliberation, Rose Hawthorne Lathrop took a nursing course in the New York City Cancer Hospital, using as her motto, "For God and the Poor." She rented three rooms at 1 Seimel street in the lower East Side, which she used as a clinic, visiting the patients who could not contact her. Alice Huber, a noted artist, assisted her as a nurse, and 668 Water street. With the help of donations from friends, Rose Hawthorne Lathrop with five assistants, calling them selves the "Servants of Relief for Incurable Cancer" moved into Cherry street, May 1, 1899.

Enters Order
In the autumn of 1900 Archbishop Conigan permitted them to wear the Dominican habit. Rose became Mother Mary Alphonsa and Alice, Mother Mary Rose. Mother Mary Alphonsa worked and prayed for a place where men could be accepted and soon a large house at Sherburne Park, now Hawthorne, Westchester county, was purchased where both men and women could be treated. She moved into these quarters called Rosary Hill Home, June 1, 1901, leaving Mother Mary Rose in charge at Cherry street. Mother Mary Alphonsa continued to work for the afflicted of every race, creed and color in this home for 25 years. She died July 9, 1924 and was buried in the Gate of Heaven cemetery, nearby.

Court Continues Work
The local court will continue to make pads for this home every Wednesday from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. at the municipal auditorium. Anyone interested in assisting may attend at any time during the day. A special night, for those who cannot assist in the day time, has been set for Thursday, February 27, from 7 to 10 p. m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Special Speaker To Address Group

Ministerial Association Will Meet at Y Monday

James H. Cunningham, religious consultant with the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, will be the guest speaker at 11 a. m. Monday morning at the meeting of Kingston Ministerial Association. The association will convene at 10 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. for its regular meeting.

Mr. Cunningham's topic will be "Marriage Counseling." A native of Warren, Ind., he is a graduate of Transylvania College and College of the Bible in Lexington, Ky. He was ordained in the ministry of the Disciples of Christ Church in September 1936 and transferred to the Congregational Christian Church in 1946. He is a member of the New York City Conference. In February 1941, he was commissioned a chaplain in the Officers Reserve Corps and served with the Third Air Force. He retired as a major in 1945.

Afterward Mr. Cunningham was called to Plymouth Church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn, as assistant minister and resigned that pastorate in January 1946 to study at Union Theological Seminary and Teachers College of Columbia University. His doctoral project is "The Development of a Community Plan of Religious Education in Packanack Lake, N. J."

In February last year he accepted a part-time position as religious consultant with the Planned Parenthood Federation of America. Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham are the parents of two children, Wanda Lee, age 6, and Judith Carol, age 3.

County Postmasters Meet, Hear Williams on Bridge

At the meeting of the Ulster County Postmasters Association this week, Secretary Donald Williams of the Chamber of Commerce urged passage of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Bill which he felt would be passed by the state legislature and signed by Governor Dewey.

Secretary Williams also outlined the functions of the Chamber of Commerce in serving the community in his talk to the representative number of postmasters who turned out for the session.

President Chauncey McLean of Wallkill, as presiding officer, heard a report from the members' committee which noted 62 for the county association and 42 for the national.

Reporting for the program committee, Postmaster Miller of Accord said Rex N. Criss, inspector in charge of New York Division, was sending inspectors J. M. McGinn and M. D. Ogden to the county postmaster's meeting on March 20. He urged a large turnout of members to hear their messages.

After the enthusiastic business session, the postmasters enjoyed a social with refreshments furnished by Postmasters McLean, Stanton, Zimmerman and Schoenmaker.

Americans to Get 17-Pound Increase In Sugar Ration

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—The United States accepted today a division of the world sugar supply for 1947 which will give Americans an increase of about 17 pounds apiece over last year.

This country's share of the world's export supply, coupled with its own production, will provide a per capita supply of about 90 pounds of refined sugar this year. Consumption last year was 73 pounds, while usage in the pre-war period was about 97 pounds.

The allocation was made last night by the International Emergency Food Council, and Inter-Governmental Agency representing more than 20 nations, charged with the responsibility of apportioning scarce foods among the nations of the world. The United States was granted 6,800,000 short tons, raw value, of a total world export supply of 14,986,000 tons. (The refining process diminishes raw sugar about 7 per cent.)

Of the 1947 per capita supply of 90 pounds, individual consumers probably will get 35 pounds through ration stamps and the remaining 55 pounds in the form of candy, bakery products, other foods, soft drinks and similar products.

Last year the individual consumer ration allowance was 25 pounds.

Division of the domestic supply among various classes of users will be made by the Agriculture Department and the Office of Price Administration, providing, of course, these agencies obtain congressional authority and funds to continue rationing beyond March 31 when the authority is due to expire.

Prison Terms Are Given Two Men in 'Gigantic Swindle'

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—Prison terms of five years each were imposed on two men yesterday along with fines totaling $370,000 on them and two of their companies on conviction for what a federal judge called a "gigantic swindle" of the government in wartime meat dealings.

Judge Frank A. Picard denounced the pair he sentenced as "the most notorious swindlers in the history of the United States." They were convicted January 24 of defrauding the government by using 12,000,000 counterfeit meat ration points and by obtaining $263,000 illegally in meat subsidies.

Addressing Hermann, a naturalized citizen who came to this country from Germany in 1917, the judge said: "You came here to find a refuge and a haven. Did you come here to break the law? You did these things when you were at war with your former country."

The judge asked Hermann if he had made any attempt to serve this country during the war. The defendant replied that he had obtained draft exemption because he was married and had two children.

Including Merlis in his remarks, Judge Picard said "this was a terrible crime in wartime, committed by people who, above all, should not have done it."

Their companies were the Center Veal and Beef Company, of Manhattan, and the Frank J. Murray Company, of Chester, N. Y.

aerial blockbuster bomb.

Capt. Halter said the mixture of the two chemicals was first used at the plant in September 1945 in a high shine on aluminum articles.

He said the process apparently was devised by Dr. Robert M. Magee, 35, a graduate of California Institute of Technology.

Although an intensive search continued through the twisted wreckage, no trace has been found of Dr. Magee and his assistant, Alice Shemeta Iba, 21-year-old Japanese American girl who was hired just last Saturday, Dr. Magee and the assistant were in the office at the time of the explosion.

The three experts said they believe these two had been blown to bits and that the search for their bodies probably is hopeless.

At the sheriff's office it was stated that the school building was robbed about a year ago.

Legion Will Hold County Meeting

Session Is Scheduled for Tuesday in High Falls

The regular monthly meeting of Ulster county American Legion will be held Tuesday evening in the firehouse at High Falls, Marblotown Post, 1512, will be host.

The most important thing to be taken up at the meeting will be the proposed new constitution and by-laws for the Ulster County American Legion. Commander Bohan requests the presence of all delegates and he and the Marblotown Post extend a cordial invitation to all interested Legionnaires to attend.

Cars Sustain Minor Damage in Accident

Minor damage was sustained by two cars involved in a collision at the intersection of Kierstedt avenue and Manor avenue about 10:15 o'clock last night, according to a report filed with the police department.

The cars were operated by John J. Stanton, of 156 Pine street, and Joseph J. McNierney of 33 Harwich street. The drivers were not injured.

Stanton, driving a 1940 Chevrolet sedan, was proceeding north on Manor avenue and his car collided with the McNierney vehicle when he attempted to turn left into Newcomb's Lane. McNierney was going west on Kierstedt and was attempting to turn left into Manor avenue at the time of the collision. Stanton's car was damaged in the left front fender and grille, while McNierney's vehicle, a 1933 Chevrolet sedan, had its left front door, fender and running board damaged.

No arrests were made.

Charge 31 With Murder

Greenville, S. C., Feb. 22 (AP)—Federal, state, county and city law enforcement officials continued their investigation today into the lynching of a 24-year-old negro after 31 men, including 29 Greenville taxi drivers, had been charged with murder in a single warrant. Sheriff R. H. Boardman of Greenville county reported last night that he had signed a warrant charging the 31 men with murder in the death of Willie Earle who was taken by a band of armed, unmasked men from the nearby Pickens county jail where he was being held in connection with the robbery and fatal stabbing of T. W. Brown, a Greenville taxi driver.

Say Wavell Recalled

London, Feb. 22 (AP)—Informed sources say that the British cabinet recalled Viceroy Lord Wavell from India because of a drawnout disagreement over "political principles." They indicated yesterday that Wavell was replaced partly because he felt Britain should postpone indefinitely its decision to get out of India altogether. Prime Minister Attlee announced this week that Lord Mountbatten was being sent to take Wavell's place as Viceroy. At the same time he disclosed that the British labor government planned to take its hand out of India's affairs by June, 1948.

Boy Found in Cesspool

Valley Stream, N. Y., Feb. 22 (AP)—After eight hours at the bottom of a snow-covered empty cesspool where he had fallen while at play, eight-year-old Leonard Gaughan was rescued at 1:15 a. m. E.S.T. today, so numb he couldn't talk but, apparently otherwise unharmed. More than 100 Nassau county police and volunteer firemen and neighbors were scouring the Long Island rural neighborhood when a fireman, Charles Porter, found the boy on a recheck of cesspools that had been dug for new houses being built near the Gaughan home.

To Install Officers

The regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church will be held Tuesday evening, February 25, at 8 o'clock. The officers elected at the last meeting to serve for the year 1947 will be installed by the Rev. E. L. Witte, pastor of the church. Those elected are: President, Ervin C. Alward; vice president, Nicholas Holstetter; secretary, Norman H. Luedtke; treasurer, Raymond Sachloff. A social hour will follow the business meeting.

THE SPIRIT OF PARTY

With a long and hard campaign already started, a year and a half yet to go, this is a good time to refresh the memory as to Washington's warning on the subject of parties. Here it is, slightly shortened:

"I have already intimated to you the danger of parties in the state, with particular reference to the founding of them on geographical discriminations. Let me now warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of party, generally. This spirit, unfortunately, is inseparable from our nature, having its root in the strongest passions of the human mind. It exists under different shapes in all governments.

"The alternate domination of one faction over another, sharpened by the spirit of revenge, natural to party dissension, is itself a frightful despotism. But this leads at length to a more formal and permanent despotism. The disorders and miseries which result gradually incline the minds of men to seek security and repose in the absolute power of an individual; sooner or later the chief of some prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this despotism to the purposes of his own elevation, on the ruins of public liberty.

"Without looking forward to an extremity of this kind, the common and continual mischiefs of the spirit of party are sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it.

"It serves always to distract the public councils and enfeeble the public administration. It agitates the community with ill-founded jealousies and false alarms; kindles the animosity of one part against another, fomenting occasionally riot and insurrection. It opens the door to foreign influence and corruption, which find a facilitated access to the government itself through the channels of party passions. Thus the policy and the will of one country are subjected to the policy and will of another.

"There is an opinion that parties in free countries are useful checks upon the administration of the government and serve to keep alive the spirit of liberty. This within limits is probably true. There will always be enough of party spirit for every salutary purpose. And, there being constant danger of excess, the effort ought to be, by force of public opinion, to mitigate and assuage it. A fire not to be quenched, it demands a uniform vigilance to prevent its bursting into a flame, lest, instead of warming, it should consume."

In the 150 years since that speech was delivered, September 17, 1796, parties have proved themselves useful, necessary, inevitable. But surely civilized people could discuss honest differences of opinion and come to agreement or reasonable compromise without party strife and personal bitterness?

Shakespeare's Puck had the low-down on the human race when he said "Lord, what fools these mortals be!" They have what is probably the best of all possible worlds, and look what they do with it.

A popular refrain lately has been "I wish I was in Dixie", but they'd have to go farther than that to get warm.

The President says hasty disarmament now would be dangerous. Sure—we tried that once.

WEATHER AND PRICES

Recent severe weather and its attendant damage to crops in the South have brought about a rise in food prices. These prices, to the relief of the consumer, had begun to come down after the dropping of controls, and were expected soon to reach a normal level. But now nearly all fresh fruits and vegetables are higher, owing to damage from the cold, and eggs, butter, and livestock are also on the upgrade because of slow transportation.

It just goes to show that Nature has the

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

NO SACRED COWS
When General George Marshall was Chief of Staff of the Army, Congress and the American people accepted his judgment without question. It is now clear that his particular judgment concerning the invasion of Europe was wrong, has resulted in a political tragedy of a magnitude not often witnessed in history, and that the United States, because of it, faces the interminable debate with Soviet Russia.

Winston Churchill had proposed that the Allies attack the Germans through the Balkans, an historic entry into Europe from the Mediterranean and the East. That would have brought British and American forces into those areas which are now generally, if somewhat inaccurately, described as behind the Iron Curtain. This plan Franklin D. Roosevelt and George Marshall opposed, on grounds which may, in their judgment, at the time, have found reasonable justification. They supported the invasion through France.

Churchill was defeated, but time has proved him to have been correct. For the sum total of the European war has proved to be that Russia is the sole victor, that German hegemony over Europe has been substituted Russian hegemony, that for the autocratic will of Hitler has been substituted the autocratic will of Stalin, that a just peace has become impossible, and that two years after the war came to a military end, the world is still at war politically with no end in sight.

I recall these incidents not in criticism of General Marshall, for history and the course of events are taking care of that, but rather as a protest against the assumption that any Secretary of State, whoever he may be, is a sacred cow. In a free country, such as ours, no holder of a public office should be beyond scrutiny and criticism.

General Marshall may have made two blunders of a serious nature already. One appears to be his petulant assumption that because he failed in an impossible task in China, the United States must withdraw its support from Chiang Kai-shek. If the United States assumes the role of the defender of free people, then it must define what a "free people" is. If by a "free people," the United States actually means one that is governed by a government of the people's free and unfettered choosing, then we have no part to play, for among the peoples who need defense, there are no such governments. If, on the other hand, by "free people" we mean those who are not controlled, fettered, mastered and enslaved by one of the great Powers, and these days, principally by Soviet Russia, then we have no part to play, for China came within our scope.

George Marshall, then, as Secretary of State, has to decide whether China deserves our support in the form of recognition of Chiang Kai-shek's struggle against a Russian hegemony or not. His original theory, on which he spent more than a year in China, that unity was possible between the Kuomintang, as represented by Chiang, and the Chinese Communists, representing Soviet Russia, is a historical untenable and from the standpoint of American interests undesirable because it would have resulted in a Russian hegemony over China. Chiang had to resist that as he resisted Japan's conquest of China and for the same reasons.

Secondly, the American acceptance of Russian limitations of press representation at the Moscow Conference is a basic error. Byrnes asked for and received a promise that Moscow would have the same coverage as all other international conferences have had since the war ended. The Russians have now reduced the number, which involves a selectivity of coverage by Russia. Thus far no radio coverage is announced.

The United States should have declined to permit any news coverage unless the news and radio coverage was altogether free. In fact, the American delegation could decline to attend a conference at which the news and radio coverage was limited by a foreign country. We have never, for any reason, limited Russian news coverage at any conference held in this country and if the Russians sent few correspondents, cameramen and broadcasters, that was their choice. The State Department has no business permitting the Russians to make that choice for the United States. (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THAT BODY OF YOURS

OPERATION TO RELIEVE DEPRESSION

While the number of patients in mental hospitals outnumbered patients in all other hospitals combined, it should be remembered that about 6 of every 10 patients entering mental hospitals are helped to the extent that they can return to their former occupations. Unfortunately there are some for whom there seems no hope for a cure and who seem doomed to remain in a hospital for life.

One of the latest methods of helping a certain type of incurable cases is the removal of the frontal lobes of the brain. I have spoken before of this operation as performed first in America by Drs. Freeman and Watts, Washington, D. C. It is estimated that 1,000 of these operations have been performed on this continent.

The outstanding reason for removing the front lobes of the brain is to free the patient from his terrible fears, which are shown by anxiety, agitation or impulsive behavior. Only cases that have not been helped by all other forms of mental treatment, including shock are selected for this operation which is called lobotomy or leukotomy.

In the Canadian Medical Association Journal, Drs. Kenneth G. McKenzie and Lorne D. Proctor, Toronto, gave the history, the reason for the operation, and a description of the operation, in a series of 27 cases. There were no deaths from operation and the patients had suffered with their mental symptoms from 3 to 20 years.

What were the results obtained? "Eighty-five per cent of the cases have shown improvement ranging from improved nursing problems to complete recoveries. Thirteen of 27 patients, who were previously considered hopelessly mentally ill, have been returned to community life. In our opinion, this operation offers a valuable addition to our present equipment in the treatment of what previously would have been considered hopelessly mentally ill patients."

When we think of the sufferings of these unfortunate patients—grief, depression, deep anxiety and extreme fear—and realize that almost half are made completely free of these symptoms and others made more comfortable and less of a nursing burden, there is much for which to be thankful.

Pennsylvania Bone Bank Established

Supply Would Eliminate Delay, Doctor Says

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—A "bone bank" that eliminates delay in having to perform simultaneous operations to remove bone from a donor and transplant it in the person needing the extra bone has been established at the George F. Geisinger Memorial Hospital, Danville, Pa.

Dr. Leonard F. Bush, head of the hospital's orthopedic department, told the New York Academy of Medicine's Orthopedic Section in an address last night that grafting operations already have been performed with the use of "bone bank" taken from the bank. He said the "bone bank" would provide a constant supply of bone for such operations.

Dr. Bush, who has spent considerable time at the New York Orthopedic Hospital experimenting with human bones which have been kept under deep freeze for extended periods, described one of the operations in which he said a cavity in a two-year-old boy's upper right arm was filled with bone fragments taken from the bank. Previously it would have been necessary to have taken the bone from some other part of the boy's body, he declared.

Under the new plan bones obtained from operations in which extra bone is removed are sterilized and then kept in a deep freeze unit at 10 degrees Fahrenheit until needed, Dr. Bush said. Bones will keep indefinitely this way, he added.

Radio School May Move Classrooms to Homes

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—Television and facsimile broadcasting may replace the schoolroom almost entirely, says Theodore C. Streibert, president of radio station WOR, New York.

He told a dinner meeting celebrating the station's 25th anniversary last night that if the two mediums realize their educational possibilities during the next decade, the children of the future may go to school only one hour a day and receive the bulk of their education at home.

The brief school attendance would be "for necessary personal guidance, examination and administrative details."

Five Are Hurt In Utica Blast

Police Say One Man Missing as Result; Cause Is Mystery

Utica, N. Y., Feb. 22 (AP)—A terrific explosion blew up a two-story knitting machinery manufacturing plant here early today, wrecking a small home and another small building.

One man was reported missing, at least five persons were hospitalized and several others persons were treated for minor injuries.

Timothy Beesman was listed as missing. A department of public works crew was digging in the ruins of Anthony Trunfrio's restaurant at the rear of the plant in an effort to determine whether he was still alive.

Deputy Police Chief Vincent Fiore turned in a disaster call. He reported that he was driving his car several blocks away from the scene of the explosion when a huge chunk of glass struck his car. All available firemen, police and a Red Cross crew arrived at the scene quickly.

Two-Hour Blaze
Fire broke out immediately after and blazed for two hours. The blast completely demolished the J. A. Firsching textile machinery manufacturing plant and shattered windows in a seven-block area.

The injured, none of whom was considered seriously hurt, were not in the plant, but in neighboring buildings.

A house across the street was blown apart and a tavern at the rear of the plant was wrecked. A man who emerged from the latter building said another man had been there with him and police and firemen began a search of the ruins.

The factory owner told Fire Chief Leo R. Barry that he knew of nothing explosive in the building, and the fire chief said he could not yet hazard a guess as to the cause.

The plant, at 528 Catharine street in downtown Utica, was reduced to rubble.

Says Reds Cause Delay

Boston, Feb. 22 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt says that "the same tactics used by American Communists in this country have been used by Communists working with the United Nations staff." The widow of the former president told the Joint Council for International Cooperation last night that those tactics included their methods of delaying and obstructing measures they did not favor.

"You have to admire the fighting qualities of the Russians, however," she said. "When they believe in something, they fight for it. We of the democracies have got to learn to believe as strongly and express our beliefs fervently." Mrs. Roosevelt was recently chosen chairman of the United Nations Commission on Human Rights.

Brown Has Retired

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—The current Editor and Publisher announced yesterday the retirement of James Wright Brown as president. He had held the trade journal post for 35 years, and will continue as a member of the board of directors and secretary of the company. James Wright Brown, Jr., vice-president and publisher since 1940, was elected president. Robert U. Brown, secretary and editor, was named vice-president and editor.

A. R. Mann, 67, Dies in New York

Dean of Geneva Station From 1921 to 1931

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—Albert Russell Mann, 67-year-old War Department agricultural economist, and dean of the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva, N. Y., from 1924 to 1931, died last night as he was leaving a hotel.

He collapsed in an underground corridor of the hotel leading to Grand Central Terminal where, presumably he would have boarded a train for his home in suburban Bronxville.

Earlier in the day, Mann had returned from France aboard the liner America. He was dead when medical aid arrived.

A native of Hawkins, Pa., Mann began his career as assistant superintendent of the Boston Farm and Trades School, founded in 1814, one of the oldest of its kind in the country.

Later, he was named secretary to the New York state commissioner of agriculture. He resigned his post with the New York Agricultural Experiment Station to become dean of the New York State College of Home Economics at Cornell, his alma mater.

Mann held honorary degrees from Syracuse University, Rhode Island State College, the University of California and Wisconsin.

His study of European agriculture and his recommendations for its improvement brought him the Finnish decoration, the Commander's Cross Order of the Rose, Belgium's Agriculture Decoration of the First Class and Czechoslovakia's Office of the Order of the White Lion. He first became interested in European agriculture when the International Education Board, founded by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., named him its director of agricultural education for Europe.

He is survived by his widow and four children.

Grace Moore's Burial To Be at Chattanooga

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—The body of opera singer Grace Moore, which arrived yesterday on the U. S. liner America, was to leave the Campbell Funeral Church here at noon today for Chattanooga, Tenn., for burial tomorrow.

Her husband, Valentin Parera, returned with the body of the singer killed in a Dutch K.L.M. airplane crash near Copenhagen January 26.

In a brief interview before leaving the ship, Parera expressed his thanks to the American public and press for the "wonderful kindness you showed my wife before her tragic death."

The husband said he had received thousands of letters and telegrams of condolence.

Two Soldiers Killed

Reykjavik, Iceland, Feb. 22 (AP)—Two American soldiers were burned to death today when a roaring fire, whipped by a 55-mile wind, destroyed two Quoniam huts used as crash stations at Keflavik Airport. Names of the victims, who were 18 and 19 years old, were withheld by military authorities pending notification of next of kin. Twelve other men in the huts escaped injury. The fire, caused by an explosion in an oil-fueled water heater in one of the huts, spread so rapidly that both structures were destroyed within five minutes.

Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear sister, Rose Keener who departed this life six years ago today, February 22, 1941. Just as the sun passed under the clouds, Far out in the west, I kissed my beloved sister, And laid her down to rest; I miss her, yes, I miss her, Yet I say, Thy will be done, For I know my heavenly Father, Will keep my gentle one.

Brother,
FRED KEENER.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved daughter and sister, Tobyna R. Malikis (Cookie), who passed away February 23, 1944. Gone is the face we loved so dear, Silent is the voice we loved to hear, Sweet to remember her who once was here, And, who, though absent is just as dear.

Perhaps one reason George Washington never told a lie was because he lived before these days of shortages.

Harry—I understand you married your ex-wife's sister? Charlie—That's right; I figured it would be too tough breaking in a new mother-in-law.

The time of the year is here when lawns are soft and may be spoiled by people cutting across corners. Think of the other fellow and keep off the soft lawns.

A certain young man who has a reputation for his reckless driving was at home one afternoon recently when he received a telephone call. A woman's voice asked if he intended going driving soon.

Young Man—No, I think not this afternoon. Why, and who are you?

Voice Over Telephone—That's immaterial. I just wanted to send my little girl down the street on an errand.

Junior—Daddy, what is your birthstone?

Daddy—A grindstone, my boy.

Smoke and the world smokes with you; sweat off and you smoke alone.

George White Parole Application Denied

San Diego, Calif., Feb. 22 (UP)—George White today began the second six months of his work camp sentence for the traffic deaths of a newlywed couple, his parole application denied.

The 54-year-old girl show impresario, former producer of the "Scandals" who now is herding sheep at the county Edgemore Farm, made his first formal application for release from the San Diego county jail work camp on the grounds that he needed treatment for pyorrhea and a knee ailment, and had tried to be a "good prisoner."

The Parole Board directed that he receive a physical examination and he will receive medical treatment at the camp, officials said.

White was convicted of the "hit-run" deaths of a couple near here last July 20.

State Charities Aid Secretary Resigns Post

Homer Folks, known throughout the state for his contribution to the advancement of public health and social service, during a career of 54 years as secretary (executive officer) of the State Charities Aid Association, announced his resignation as secretary February 20.

Mr. Folks, who celebrated his eightieth birthday on Tuesday of this week, had intended to retire as secretary of the State Charities Aid Association many years ago, but the pressing need for social workers during the depression and again during the recent war prompted him to remain active.

Mr. Folks will be remembered as instrumental in the formation of the Ulster County Committee on Prevention of Tuberculosis in 1909. He came to Kingston in the spring of that year with John A. Kingsbury, now of Shady and George J. Nelbach of New York, officials of the State Committee on Tuberculosis, and a campaign was put on in the old A mory on Broadway, the outcome of which was the formation of the Ulster county committee.

Judge Joseph Fowler was named president of the new organization, with Dr. Mary Gage-Day as secretary, and a work began that has continued with marked success throughout the years.

It was on the recommendation of Mr. Folks that a movement to combat tuberculosis in upstate New York was begun in 1907. Since that time the tuberculosis rate in upstate New York has been reduced 78 per cent. As a tribute to his activity in the work one of three district tuberculosis hospitals established in the state, the one at Oneonta, was named the Homer Folks Tuberculosis Hospital.

Kingston Downs Middleies 67-56; Glaser Gets 20

Team's Ninth Straight Win; Rienza, Gheer Also Shine; Tribe Beats Monticello

George Glaser, reserve forward for Kingston High at the start of the season, turned hero Friday night to lead the Maroon five to a thrilling 67-56 victory over Middletown. It was Kingston's ninth straight win and the fourth in a row for second half play in the DUSO League.

Liberty Trips Monticello
Liberty finished its regular league season last night by defeating Monticello 44 to 37. Allie Hasbrouck led the Redskins with 22 points. Liberty's record for the second half is four wins and one loss.

Glaser, who teamed with Mike Rienza at the Kingston forward slot, netted 20 points in a sparkling performance. The young blond threw in shots from all angles and kept the Maroon in the driver's seat from the start.

Rienza and Bobby Gheer supplied the rest of the vaunted attack with 13 and 16 markers respectively. Liberty's great ball-handling was a major factor in bringing the Maroons through to triumph.

Play Newburgh Next
Last night's victory assured Kingston of at least a tie for second half honors. The Maroons will wind up their regular season next Friday night playing Newburgh at the municipal auditorium. A win would give Kingston the title. A Kingston loss would throw the second half race into a two-way tie with Liberty and a playoff game would be necessary to decide the second half championship.

Kingston's fast-breaking attack, sparked by Rienza, caught Middletown asleep in the first quarter as the locals barged out to a 13-7 lead. The forces of G. Warren Kias put on their best scoring offensive of the game in the midway canto and finished with a 34-15 bulge at the half. Glaser led the attack with eight points.

Middletown's determined five, with Jack McDaniels and Charlie Murray pressing, gave Kingston a scare in the third period but the lead still favored the locals by 52-31.

The Middies outscored Kingston 25-15 in the final period, but both clubs battling to the wire in a wild finale. McDaniels, who accounted for 19 points, was Middletown's biggest threat as he dumped in 13 of the 23 points. Murray pushed in eight during the final quarter.

Sideline Jottings
Ed Weaver was held under the two figure mark for the first time this season with his nine points. Harold Stangler, Middletown guard, gave the losers a decided lift in the first period when he replaced Gordie Halenbeck but Kingston's swift attack proved too much. Glaser's total of 20 last night gave him 46 points for the league campaign. He shouldn't have to worry about any more splinters for the rest of the season. The entire Maroon squad, coaches, and the writer were guests of Abe Novak, former Kingstonian at the Dixie Diner just outside of Middletown after the game.

'Y' Five Opposes Saugerties Cagers Here Monday Night

Local Team Seeks First Win; Main Tilt Starts 9 P.M.; Two League Contests Slated

The Kingston Y.M.C.A. All Stars will oppose the fast-stepping Saugerties A.C. Monday night at the municipal auditorium. Game time is set for 9 o'clock.

The Northern Ulster squad has been traveling at a fast clip, according to reports, and figure to give the local quintet, managed by Lou Schafer, a tough struggle. Kingston, playing its first game against Poughkeepsie last week, made a good showing despite losing. Manager Schafer has put his charges through a couple of workouts, meanwhile, and believes his team is ready to even the record.

The local "Y" team will have George Bloom, Al Thomas, Bob Slicker, Tommy Malmes, "Link" Crosby, Frank Sass, "Finky" McElrath and Don Ross to choose from.

Saugerties is expected to have Sid Christiansa, Joe Doyle, Neil Cox, Bill Goff and Bill Loezel. Following the main attraction there will be a regular City Y.M.C.A. Basketball League double-header starting at 7 o'clock between the Hustlers and Chez Emile and Madden Aces and Gulnick's Gang.

Saugerties Places First in Kingston Bowling Tourney

Following are the final team standings in the Kingston Bowling Association tournament, released this morning by John McLellan, secretary:

Grable and James Are Unhappy Over Horses

Los Angeles, Feb. 22 (AP)—Betty Grable and Harry James are definitely not pleased with an investment of $106,000 which they made in seven race horses.

The actress and her bandleader husband claim the racers were sold to them under misrepresentation and they fled suit to recover the purchase price.

C. H. Jones and son, racing stable owners, and Joe Hernandez, who acted as broker in the transaction last May 8, were named defendants in the suit which alleged that the seven horses were not in "perfect running order," as Miss Grable and James were given to understand.

Two of the horses, Poco Mas and Redgal, suffered from injuries which prevented their being trained, the suit averred. The other horses were Collette, Darby D'Way, Red Ear, Judy J. and Green Apples.

Miss Grable and James also asked $3,000 as maintenance for the horses and at least $65,000 damages in case they are not awarded the amount of the purchase price.

Kayes After 12th Straight on Sunday In Exhibition Here

New York Rangers Meet Jones Dairy at 3 P.M.; Female Trundlers to Bowl at 2 P.M.

One of the finest bowling attractions of the season is on tap for local tenpin addicts Sunday afternoon at the Central Recs, when the crack New York Rangers meet Jones Dairy No. 1 and Kaye Sportswair risks its 11-ma ch winning streak against five of the best women bowlers in Newburgh.

The famous Rangers, seventh place winners in the 1946 A.B.C. tournament with a 2954 score, are rated one of the topflight combinations in the east.

1054 Game Average
Jones Dairy No. 1, with an average of 1054 per game for the last nine games on alleys 7 and 8, engages Poughkeepsie in a Hudson Valley match at 1 o'clock and the Rangers at 3. The Kaye-Newburgh match starts at 2 o'clock.

Known as the "League of Nations" roster of the Metropolitan Major League, George Woodward's Rangers will feature "Chic" Chiarelli, who patented the "Chic Grip" ball; Stan Siomensk, a sensational curve ball artist; Nick Zazzali, 60-year old New Jersey singles kingpin; Elmer F. sh and Alex Murzinski, the famed "Hungarian Rhapsody."

Pitted against these stars will be the regular Jones Dairy No. 1 roster of Johnny Ferraro, Harold Broskie, Bob Hanley, John Schatzel and Charlie Tiano.

Kayes Battle Newburgh
The Newburgh female stars who will attempt to snap the undefeated Kaye Sportswair winning streak are veteran Lila Havens, Babe Piscotti, Peg Wood; and two new aces, Royal DeCrosa and Marie Kinsley.

Kaye Sportswair has yet to be seriously challenged by any area team but the Newburghers figure to provide them with the most formidable opposition since the Hillenbach match.

All Kaye Sportswair cagers came through in excellent style in the women's city tournament and are in top shape for the test. Rose Schatzel, conqueror of Jean Mickey Michaels, heads the group and will be supported by Evelyn Moore, newly crowned Poughkeepsie city singles champion; Dot Flemings; Marge Jansen, Charlotte Lapine and Betty Boyce.

Lilies Play Tonight

The Swamp Lilies will seek their seventh straight win tonight when they battle the High Falls Juniors on the latter's court. Paced by Chris Tucker, the Lilies were able to nose out High Falls earlier in the year when "ucked" 21 points. Any team wishing to book games with the Lilies are asked to call 360-W. The team plays on a home and home basis.

In The Pocket with CHARLIE TIANO

SPONSORS HAVE OBLIGATION: The dismal entry list in the 1947 K.B.A. championships does not necessarily reflect entirely against the individual bowlers. . . . The obligation of the sponsors to pay the shot for the team entry cannot be overlooked. While we can't condone the record of the bowlers, we feel that many sponsors shirk a responsibility when they do not pay the team's tournament fee. Any bowler who aligns himself with a sponsor who will not at least pay the league entry fee, annual city tournament fee and provide a decent bowling shirt, is only kidding himself. Such sponsorships are mere stunts that take advantage of a man who gives 30 nights of his season in behalf of a trade name. This is not a blanket criticism of sponsors but we feel their indifference plus that of the bowlers is a big reason why the 1947 city tournament is a horrendous flop. Phoney excuses on the part of the bowlers are a dime a dozen and worth less than a faded penny, but if every team was assured of its tournament entry paid by the sponsor, we feel the registration would be considerably higher. In this respect it is reassuring to note the records of Ad Jones and Emil Jordan, of Chez Emile. . . . Everyone knows about the numerous Jones teams that compete annually in the tournament. Not everyone is aware that Emil Jordan is one of bowling's greatest boosters, with four teams in the present tourney. . . . A few more men like Messrs. Jones and Jordan and tournament bowling in Kingston would not be in such a pitiful state.

ECHOES OF THE K.A.A. BANQUET: The movement to transfer the City Baseball League to the Athletic Field gained impetus at the "Hot Stove League" dinner. . . . That is where it rightfully belongs. . . . New incentives for the players in the form of the $100 cash award offered by Dr. Saul Goldfarb in behalf of B'nai Brith and the trophy by Mayor Bill Edelmann. . . . Montgomery Wards is donating a basketball to every public and parochial school in the city through the Kingston Athletic Association. . . . Bud Benoit, the area Carstairs representative, distributed four attractive prizes at the dinner. . . . Frankie Frisch could have held the attention of his audience for an hour. . . . His stories about umpire baiting were classic. . . .

THE WEEK'S RECAP: Since our last recapitulation, interrupted by gunplay, dinners and sundry items, the city's bowlers polished off a flock of noteworthy scores, exclusive of the annual tournaments. . . . In the distaff department, Rose Schatzel battered 612, while Phil Gehringler had 575, Marge Jansen 573 and 523; Evelyn Moore 540 and 540; Mary Smith powdered 573, Rea Fredericks 561, Evelyn Francis 555, Dot Flemings 502, Arlene Van Buren 523, Marge Van Alstyne 512, Josephine Smith 521, Marie O'Donnell 501, Charlotte Lapine 535. The male side of the ledger showed Roland Post with 564 in the Federation; A. Cross 222-591 in the Booster; George Goldfarb 204-565, Good Neighbor; Dick Howard, 591, City Minor; Charlie Horne and Bob Hanley, 570 in the Hercules, with Horne posting a 255. Ellis posted 257-570 and E. Rawling 249-594 in the Electrol. Herb Sleight topped the Y Mercantile with 578 and John "Seabiscuit" Sangi blasted 642 in the Mixed.

OF MEN AND MICE: The D.A. Lou Bruhn, and Fred Elster came through unscathed in their maiden effort as boxing judges. . . . But these worthy boxing pundits aren't kidding themselves. . . . They know the cause celebre will not occur until the next card when the stormy petrel Carmine Virgilio and Tony Barone show faces. . . . Former Kingston High School students enrolled at Rider University turned out en masse to greet Rod Sagendorf and "Zeke" Zelle when Hartwick College battled Rider on the basketball court and lost, 57-64. . . . Bob Stone reports that the individual contest between Sagendorf and Long Johnny Cottrill, of Poughkeepsie, now at Rider, had the crowd "screaming alternately with delight and amazement." . . . William J. "Pat" Duffy, the noted impresario currently residing in the Florida sunshine, who is not a member, writes B'nai Brith that they should promote a wrestling show featuring Primo Carnera. . . . Pat saw Carnera in action in Miami Beach and writes Da Preem is slightly terrific. So are Mr. Duffy's beauty contests, he writes.

CENTRAL HUDSON COPS TOURNEY: Time was when the annual Central Hudson tournament was a top drawer bowling secret, conducted behind closed doors. . . . But times have changed and so have the C. H. agents. . . . Art Buddenhagen spreads the joyous tidings of a Kingston victory by two pins in the 12-game series conducted in Kingston, Newburgh, Catskill and Poughkeepsie. . . . Kingston knocked over 9960 pins, with Newburgh shooting 9958. . . . The General Office posted 9562, Poughkeepsie 9536 and Catskill was fifth with 9156. . . . Roy Webber, Kingston's portside, cracked 254 for high single, while Joe Hoffman, of baseball renown, rolled 585 high series. . . . Best team series was Kingston's 2666. . . . Top average for individuals, Oscar Green, Newburgh 173.
